

Didore Bench

Didore by Cuno Frommherz for Leolux

You'll know them from cosy restaurants and rustic kitchens: dining areas where part of the family ends up eating on the bench. Comfortable and cosy. But perhaps not completely the ambience you had in mind.

For Leolux, designer Cuno Frommherz has created a contemporary version of the traditional dining room bench: light and transparent, with a comfortable and active seat. You can style Didore exactly the way you want it. The eye-catching upholstery on the back, with the quirky upholstery on the top half, invites you to make frivolous combinations of upholstery materials and colours. Then you can match the frame to it with subtle combinations or lots of colors.
