

Victor 1470 Wood Top Table

VICTOR – an archaic-looking sculpture of a table, coarse – soft, brute – delicate, demanding and giving... These are no contradictions, but united in a unique table design. The earthy top of solid wood gives the table a rustic and natural appearance. The industrial-design frame in the form of double t-beams is connected with a rectangular base plate. These features provide immediately an impressive statement. The visible, robust screwing in combination with the black steel look of the surfaces of t-beams and ground plate give this model the finishing touch.
