

Cubus Pure wall unit

Like a passe-partout, the elegant colored glass surrounds of Cubus Pure set the stage for the hand-sorted solid wood fronts. The fine glass edges and recessed plinth create a light, floating visual appearance. The modular body system of Cubus Pure can be planned individually, accommodating numerous heights, widths and depths, as well as various types of wood. For the glass surfaces, you can even choose your own personal favourite color (from the selection of NCS colors). And we also included something very special for our customers: the fascinating front made of Venetian oak.

The fine solid wood bodies of our design elements invite creative play. Because when it comes to the possible applications, the imagination knows no bounds. Whether they are solitary, combined with, or installed in sideboards, dressers, wall units, and kitchens, they offer space to present decorative accessories. They can also be designed with dimmable LED lighting and glass doors in clear glass, smoky glass, or palladium. The rear panels are available in solid wood with a horizontal or vertical grain texture, as well as in colored glass.

The extensive Cubus Pure body system gives you nearly endless planning options to create your dream home. Combined with our home entertainment program, the Cubus shelf system or the flexible design elements, the result is the perfect wall unit – custom made so that every detail corresponds to your individual wishes and needs.
