

Bacon modular sofa

Modular sofa by Meridiani having pure forms and an exceptional modular versatility. The thin outer frame receives as a shell the soft back and seat cushions characterized by a 45° cut.

The units are available in different sizes and in two depths which may be joined also in the same composition. The units have fully removable covers. The outer frame gives the opportunity for refined combinations of leather and fabric or different fabrics. Bacon, proposed in the version Kuoio, presents the same proportions but with the outer frame in saddle leather. Also this version offers two depths.

Modular units, cushions with removable cover.
