

Warm coplanar wardrobe

Coplanar wardrobes offer a welcome union between technology and aesthetics, and in the true style of Armadio al Centimetro offer a uniquely personalised, individual wardrobe design. To open, pull the doors out and slide open seamlessly for a truly modern experience. This technology offers the ability to create a perfectly horizontal surface with no protrusions or recesses that complements contemporary design sensibilities. Available in over 40 matte or glossy lacquered colours from LEMA's catalogue, there are also multiple possibilities to customise the interiors: different finishes are available in the catalogue and a wide range of equipment is designed to rationalise space. An extensive range filled with different types of drawer units fronted in glass or wood allows you to embellish your solution with the glass display case for belts and ties, or the incredibly practical option of extractable storage units for trousers, undergarments and shoes. The product range is completed with precious details such as the in-built light for the shelf, the hanging rail, and elegant finishing touches such as the mats in leather and fabric for the drawers, or the leather boxes for shirt compartments.

Warm by David Lopez Quincoces is a closet where rich and individual aesthetics meet a natural, simple look achieved by leather finishing. Customisable in depth, it is available with hinged or sliding doors and is also available fitted for corner positions. Wide-ranging internal equipment options offering customisation to suit any need. Drawer units, display cases for trousers, belts and shoes, shelves and hanging rails with built-in lights are completed with luxury details in leather and sumptuous fabrics for a wardrobe that is truly elegant.
