

Picture Sideboard

There is clear 1970s inspiration running through Picture, a three-door sideboard in heat-treated oak with a matt lacquered finish. The main body features a simple design and is supported by a metal base, yet it's capable of bringing real personality to any space thanks to its engraved doors, which have a low-relief feel to them and create abstract shadows on the surface. The unique detailing of the doors is another sophisticated example of how Lema's design philosophy combines both industrial and artisanal influences.
