

Pin wall lamp

The Pin wall light collection is an Ichiro Iwasaki design. The collection of wall lights is characterized by its providing both indirect ambient and focused reading light, which can be installed in rooms where it can contribute to creating comfortable reading conditions as well as in circulation areas where several fittings can be configured to provide indirect lighting, like a light mural.

Vibia offers many options for the sconces within this collection, four in total. All feature a LED light source while users can choose between black and cream finishes.
