

Joi Open Air low tables

For those who love the beauty of raw materials: iroko solid wood and concrete come to life with Joi Open Air, a collection of rectangular tables and square side tables in different sizes, with visually pure lines. Conceived for an external use, the tops are in Ductal® concrete, a component of the highest quality and technology, made up of very fine natural mineral components and organic fibers, which make it resistant and flexible. Its light gray finish makes Joi Open Air perfect for a contemporary and urban stage.
