

FM- 190 Arc chair

Its unique selling points are its unmistakable form and surprising function.

The FM-190 is the piece of furniture that at one moment still looks like an armchair, but at the next it turns into a comfortable lounger.

Small body shifts or gentle pressure against the backrest, resembling a fist, allow the desired sitting or reclining position to be assumed without great effort.

The flowing curved shapes trace the handwriting of Stefan Heiliger and turn the FM-190 into a hybrid of a chair- and recliner culture. The unique design is rounded to perfection by the high-quality leather processing.

Manual back adjustment for sitting and lying position.
